Annual College & Career Convention Returns with New Spin for Local Fine Arts Scholars

Rhodes School for the Performing Arts Hosts Out of the Box College & Career Convention

Humble, TX – For its 13th year running, Rhodes School for the Performing Arts (RSPA) welcomes its annual College and Career Convention on Wednesday, March 22nd, at its Humble campus location.

Rhodes School for the Performing Arts is a public charter school district with two campuses in the Northeast Houston area. Serving grades Pre-K through 8th, the recently awarded MSAP Grant recipient is revitalizing its Fine Arts program into a STEAM program (STEM plus Arts) to promote diversity and increase choices in public education programs. RSPA also welcomes a not-so-typical element to one of its annual district events this year.

The Out of the Box College and Career Convention is an event designed to motivate 3rd – 8th-grade scholars to follow their dreams as professionals and universities share the essential details of their careers and opportunities for educational advancement.

"I want our scholars to be exposed to all career options," expressed Superintendent Ashley Miller on the 'Out of the Box' name addition. "There are so many careers that we aren't exposed to simply because we don't know someone in that field."

The event will feature representatives from Lone Star and San Jacinto Community Colleges, the oil and gas industry, and the media industry, alongside veterinarians, chiropractors, pharmacists, judges, beauty consultants, entrepreneurs, Human Resources Specialists, and many more business and community service professionals.

"We are so excited to have so many leading pioneers in business to be housed under one roof that can help our scholars explore various possibilities & career paths," says Dianna Hewitt, School Support Officer. "The Out of the Box College and Career Convention is also a great networking opportunity for businesses throughout the community."

This year's Convention is a one-day event set for 9:00a-12:30p in RSPA's Humble campus cafeteria.
